THOUGHTS FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

I'll have to hurry and get this article written before Norma gets home! She can't understand why I have to clutter up her kitchen with my typewriter and my other little projects.

She was trying to do some baking for a wedding yesterday, and I had a bunch of old papers and other valuable materials spread all over the kitchen.

I just knew that somewhere along the line she was going to ask the question, "Why did you have a nice room built in the basement for a study, equipped with shelving galore, built-in showcases, more file cabinets than most corporations have, a counter top six feet long for work space, and a desk . . . and then bring your work up here to the kitchen to do?" Well, you know the answer to that as well as Norma does. I don't have room to work in my room in the basement. Does that sound familiar?

Norma didn't push the issue too far though. She knew I would ask her "if, she had asked to do her baking in my kitchen?" Being a "house husband" gives me the right to do anything I want to in my own kitchen! I kind of get the hint that I'm not really as good a cook as I think I am. I told Norma on Saturday that I was going to a Flea Market on Sunday morning and that I might be a little late getting back, but I would cook dinner when I got home. Now Norma never misses Church, but she did yesterday! When I returned from the Flea Market she had dinner about finished. I never gave it a thought until I overheard Lisa thanking Norma for staying home from Church to cook dinner. Wow! "It will be the first edible meal we've had in a long time," I heard her say. I just don't get no respect.

Nothing much exciting is happening so far as N.C.C. is concerned. The Auction will be over by the time you receive this. You can look at the Auction Results that will be in your next issue and wish that you had bid more. All of those unusual items now belong to someone else.

Don't lose heart if you didn't get the item you wanted though. The Show, Flea Market and Auction season will be in full swing before long and you will be able to get out and begin searching again for all of those goodies.

It's not too early to make plans for the Convention . . . believe it or not, it is less than four months away. Looking forward to seeing you there! WILLARD

1988 CONVENTION

JUNE 23 - 24 - 25 - 26, 1988

by MARK A. NYE
1988 Convention Chairman

Start making your plans now to attend the 1988 N.C.C. Convention. 1988 brings the 15th Birthday of the National Cambridge Collectors, Inc.! We will also be celebrating the 6th anniversary of the Museum opening; our 13th annual Antique Show & Sale; as well as our 15th annual Convention. How fast the time passes, when one is having fun!

Special events will be held to celebrate our anniversaries, including a Birthday Party on Friday night, June 24th. Don't procrastinate as June will be here sooner than you think. Make plans now to be in Cambridge for your Convention. If you don't attend, you will be sorry you missed the event of the year!

As previously announced, the theme of this year's convention is "Cambridge and the 1950s." This includes not only the years 1950-54, but also the reopen period. Programs, including the Saturday morning breakfast program, will be presented, dealing with the theme, and in addition the Display Room (at the Shenandoah Inn) will also be devoted to Cambridge glass from the 1950s.

To make the Display Room a success, we will need glass from you, the membership attending the Convention. Share your collection with others. Especially needed are pieces from the Cambridge Square, Cascade, Corinth, and Sonata lines. We would also like to put together an outstanding display of Cambridge Arms, so please, loan your Cambridge Arms items for use in the Display Room.

In addition we need examples of all colors, patterns, etchings, cuttings, and decorations done during the 1950s. Particularly desirable would be items from the Milk Glass, Ebon and Mardi Gras lines. To see what we need, turn to the N.C.C. Reprints of the 1949-53 and 1956-58 Catalogs, as well as the "Colors in Cambridge Glass" book. Anything shown in the first two books, as well as any piece in 1950s colors can be used in this display. As usual, display glass must be made available by Friday, June 24th, and except for unusual conditions, cannot be removed until Sunday afternoon. If you do have exceptional items you would like to show, but cannot meet these requirements, let me know, and special arrangements can be made. Watch the next issue of the CRYSTAL BALL for further information regarding Display Room glass.

As previously announced, our Banquet speaker will be Mr. Frank Fenton, recently retired President of the Fenton Art Glass Company. Mr. Fenton's talk will cover glass companies in the Ohio Valley, as well as some of the people, associated with the glass industry, he has known over the years.

Following our Saturday morning breakfast, George Fogg and Frank Maloney will present a program dealing with the Convention theme. Both George and Frank are long time members of N.C.C., and have attended many conventions. For those of you who are aware of the program they presented at last year's Heisey Convention, this will not be a repeat. To quote George and Frank, "Lest we perpetuate our new nicknames of 'Abbott and Costello,' we will not be offering elaborate productions as afore mentioned. We do aspire to a program that will be in good taste, informative and educational, factual but perhaps tongue-in-cheek, and most important -- involving participation by some of the convention goers." What will it be? Come and find out!

We are retaining the extra day, Thursday, June 23rd and, as last year, convention activities on this day will be limited to Registration, Programs, and in the evening the Convention Chairman's Reception. The latter event was well received last year and will once again be very informal, consisting of a cash bar, chips and dip, and a place to sit and "gab" with old and new friends. As before, this will be included as part of the Convention Package at no additional charge. An added feature Thursday night will be a Silent Auction. All of the programs presented on Thursday will be repeated later during the weekend.

Due to a lack of participation, the glass factory tours held in previous years will not take place this year. Directions to the various factories will be made available to those individuals desiring to visit them.

An activity, in the planning stage, is to have work parties at the Museum Storage building during the days preceding the Convention. There is much work to be done with the molds

VASES

by MARK A. NYE

In June of 1949 the Cambridge Glass Company issued a new catalog and, so far as it is known today, it was the first catalog to be issued by the company since January 1940. The original issue consisted of 148 pages and, during the following months and years (beginning in August 1949), supplemental pages were issued, with the last being added sometime in 1953.

Late in 1953 or early in 1954, catalog type material was circulated showing the Milk Glass and Ebon lines. In 1978 the National Cambridge Collectors published a reprint of this catalog, including the pages showing the Milk Glass and Ebon lines. This article is based on information found in this reprint, along with the associated price lists that have become available

The original 1949 Cambridge catalog contained two pages captioned "Vases," and on these pages were shown eighteen vases, none of which were new that year. (See next two pages for reprints of these catalog pages.)

Eleven of these vases, #274, #278, #279, #1309, #1237, #1238, #1299, #1239, #6004 8", #6004 6", and #1236, were in the Cambridge line, at the latest, by 1937 and were first discussed in my previous two articles on Vases.

According to the 1949 price list, #274, #278, #279, #1237, #1238, and #6004 (both sizes) were, at that time, available in crystal, amber and amethyst; while #1236 and #1239 were being offered in amber and amethyst only. The remaining two vases in this group, #1309 and #1299, were being produced solely in crystal.

By the time the October 1953 price list was issued, only #274, #278, #1237, 1238, and the two sizes of #6004 remained in production and these were listed as being made in crystal.

In addition to the colors just described, vases #6004 (both sizes), #1237, #1238, #274, #278, and #1309 were, as of June 1949, also being manufactured in crown tuscan; however, in October 1953 no vases were listed as being made in this color.

In August 1949, two new colors, emerald and mandarin gold, were introduced and sometime during the following months production of ebony and carmen resumed. Thus, in September 1950 we find the #1237 vase listed as being available in ebony while #6004 (both sizes) and #1238 were being offered in emerald and mandarin gold. At the same time, the 6" version of #6004 was being produced in carmen as was #1237, both with crystal foot and in the case of the #1237, a crystal stem.

The Pristine line was introduced in the late 1930s and six of the vases shown in the 1949 catalog were from this line. Exactly when each was added to the line remains unknown, but was probably before their appearance on a catalog page. The P.580 8" flip vase appears in the January 1940 catalog, the only one of the six to do so. Pristine #575, #565, #572 and #568 are first shown on a supplemental page to the 1940 catalog that is dated June 1941; while the page showing P.563 for the first time probably dates to August 1942.

June 1949 saw this group of Pristine line vases being made only in crystal. By the fall of 1950, after the introduction of emerald and mandarin gold and the resumption of ebony production, we find the P.575 cornucopia (also listed as part of the Corinth line) being made in all three colors; while the P.572 vase was listed in emerald and mandarin gold.

Pristine vases #563, #565, #568, #572, and #575 continued to be in the Cambridge line when the October 1953 price list was issued. However, by then, production was limited to crystal.

The remaining vase from these two pages is the #1066 Ivy Ball. This #1066 line was introduced in 1931 but exactly when the ivy ball went into production remains to be determined. The first known appearance of the ivy ball on a Cambridge catalog page occurred in June 1941. Eight years later, in June 1949, it was being offered with a crystal, amber or amethyst bowl with crystal stem and foot.

By September 1950, this vase was also being offered in emerald and mandarin gold (bowl, stem and foot in color), as well as with a crystal ball with ebony stem and foot. In addition, the #1066 ivy ball was at this time also being made with a carmen ball and crystal stem and foot.

In addition to the vases just described, three additional ones appeared in the original 1949 catalog and these were from the Cascade line: the #4000/573; the #4000/574 oval (a flared version of the #573); and the #4000/235 5" rose bowl.

Initially, these three vases were produced only in crystal, but after the introduction of emerald and mandarin gold, the #573 became available in these two colors as well. By the fall of 1953, none of the Cascade vases remained in production.

During the years 1949-53 many of the vases shown on the two 1949 catalog pages captioned "Vases", were available etched and engraved, as well as plain. During these years the etchings Rosepoint, Candlelight, Chantilly, Diane, Elaine, Portia, Wildflower, Roselyn, Daffodil and Magnolia appeared on one or more of these vases. Roselyn was available on #274, #278, #1238 and #1237; while Daffodil came only on the 8" #6004 and #278, as did Magnolia.

The #278 11" footed vase was used in conjunction with several engravings, including: Achilles; Adonis; and Cambridge Rose, as well as others. The reader is referred to the NCC 1949-53 Reprint for additional information regarding other etchings and engravings.

In addition to etchings and engravings, several vases were also decorated, during this period, with gold decorations. The #274 and #1309 vases will be found with D/460 Wedding Band; while #278 comes with D/1063 Talisman Rose and D/Woodlily. The #274 will also be found with D/1063 Talisman Rose and the P.604 bud vase was decorated with D/Woodlily. D/American Beauty was placed on two vases, the 8" P.604 and #278.

The October 1953 price list contained a listing for D/1066 Columbine, gold encrusted, on six items which included the 8" #6004 vase. The same price list page also had the gold decoration D/Butterfly available on five items, four of which were vases - both the 6" and 8" #6004, #274 and #278, with the fifth item being the P.306 candy box. At this time, I have no other information about these two decorations. (Editor's Note: See page 16 for photo of the gold encrusted D/1066 Columbine decoration on a Pristine cream and sugar.)

With the reintroduction of ebony and carmen, as well as the introduction of emerald and mandarin gold, the molds for several additional vases were reactivated and the vases put into production. The Pristine #569 was made in all four colors, while the vases known as #306, #307, #309 and #310 came only in mandarin gold and emerald.

The latter four vases had been in and out of the Cambridge line for many years and the basic shapes appear in several of the major lines, while the Pristine #569 was originally in production by June 1941. In addition, the Pristine #604 8" bud vase was put back into production between June 1949 and September 1950; it, however, was made only in crystal.

With the introduction, in December 1951, of the Cambridge Square line, came seven additional vases, four of which used blown tops from other lines or numbers combined with the Square line foot. The other three, #3797/90/91/92 were unique to the line (see page 8). All seven were listed on the October 1953 price list. It is doubtful any of the seven Cambridge Square line vases were ever made in colors other than ebon and crystal.

The final vases from the years 1949-53 are the two from the Heirloom line, #5000/77 fan vase and the #5000/78 footed vase (see page 8). Both vases first appeared in 1926, in different sizes, when the line was first brought out under the name Centennial. During the 1950s, as part of the Heirloom line, these vases were produced only in crystal.

In January and February 1954 Cambridge brought out their Milk Glass and Ebon (a matte finished black color) lines. No new molds were created for either color. Ebon was used primarily, if not entirely, in molds from the Cambridge Square line, while many older molds were dusted off and used for the Milk Glass line.

Cambridge milk glass was produced only until the factory closed the following summer. During this short production run, vases from the Caprice line #344 (W125) and #337 (W124), and the Everglade vases #20 (W129), #21 (W128), #22 (W127) and #23 (W126) were made in milk glass; as was the Cascade #573 (W133) and the Heirloom #77 (W132) fan vase, and the Shell #46 (W131) holder.

Three vases from the Cambridge Square line, #78, #80 and #91 were produced in ebon and these may be found plain or decorated with the gold D/Birds and D/Stars decorations. Production of ebon ceased with the plant closing in the summer of 1954. There is no indications that ebon was made during the re-open years.

Old Time Clock

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The photo on page 1, and the following letter was sent to us from Floetta Hancock Griffith. We very much appreciate her sharing this interesting bit of Cambridge memorabilia with us.)

Feb. 4, 1988

Dear Phyllis,

Enclosed find picture of the Time Clock that Herschel Hancock purchased used in 1920. It was used continuously in the Cutting Department until 1954. Then it moved to LaFlo Cut Glass Co. and was used there until 1983.

It keeps perfect time and must be wound twice a week by a 4" key. There were containers on either side for the workers cards, to ring in and ring out.

It was made by International Business Machine Company.

I am keeping it for my son, but thought you might enjoy the picture.

Sincerely,

Floetta Hancock Griffith
